About Baby

Mother Should Ask Their Physician
What Food to Use.

When it is necessary to wean the baby, the physician should always be consulted as to what food to use. The physician most certainly will advise against the use of condensed milk, or cow's milk alone, although he will quite likely advise the use of what is called modified milk.

The chances are that he will prescribe Justfood, which, when prepared according to the simple directions accompanying the package, modifies cow's milk in exactly the way that would be recommended by leading physicians.

Justfood is so delicate and so easily absorbed that the baby always keeps it down, making it unnecessary to use lime water or medicine.

It is, too, a most economical food, costing, prepared for use, less than one cent a meal for little babies. Sold by druggists, 50c, $1.00 and $1.50. Ask your physician his opinion of Justfood, for quite likely he has used it for years.

We should be glad to send a liberal quantity of the food to a physician. Justfood Co., 40 No. Franklin street, Syracuse, N. Y.

MAGAZINE REVIEW.

Writing on the increasing number of railroad disasters in the April Every-body's, Carl Snyder offers some surprising and significant facts concerning American railroads which do not kill passengers.

There seems to have grown up a conviction, alike among the public, railway managers and railway operatives, that little can be done.

Before this conviction crystallizes, let the public learn of what one man and one road, at least, have done. This man is Colonel H. C. Hope, superintendent of telegraph and signals on the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha railway—more familiarly known as the Omaha road.

"There are somewhat over one hundred larger railway companies in the United States, operating about ninety-five per cent of the total mileage. This gives an average of about two thousand miles of main track for each. The Omaha road has 1,700 miles; that is, its line would stretch from New York through Omaha, into the middle of Nebraska. Its gross earnings last year were $7,645 per mile, a little above the average for the country. It carried 3,000,000 passengers a total distance of 145,000,000 passenger miles. In ten years the business of the company has had a very steady, but no extraordinary increase.

In these ten years this road has never killed a passenger in an accident. "This record I believe to be due almost entirely to Colonel Hope and his methods."

"I have learned of at least one other road that, up to a few months ago, held a similar record. This is the Delaware & Hudson. In ten years it carried some 60,000,000 passengers eleven thousand million passenger miles. And there was not one fatality in all this time. In one year, 1903, there was not even a single injury of any kind to a passenger. In the following year there was one. I have no doubt that there are other roads with records equally as clean."

"Still more remarkable is the tabulation sent me since the above was penned, by Mr. Elson Thompson of the General Railway Managers' association of Chicago for the fiscal year 1906. This, translated, is what his figures mean:

The Record.
270 American roads
Covering more than half the total track mileage.
Carrying more than half the
passenger mileage.
Number of passengers killed in train accidents, None.

All other roads,
Less than half the
track mileage.
Less than half the
passenger mileage.
Number of passengers killed, 182.

"These figures can have but one meaning. This is, that in 1906 on one-half the mileage of the country there was good management, care, respect for human life. On the other half there was not."

SEASON, BUT THAT'S ALL.
Ice and Blinding Snowstorm Make an Inauspicious Opening.

Bangor, Me., April 2.—Fishing began at the Bangor salmon pool yesterday but no fish were taken. There is but a small stretch of open water at the pool, the ice being heavy elsewhere. One boat was launched with considerable difficulty from the Brewer side by two men, who fished for an hour or two in a blinding snowstorm.

BOSTON'S NEW MANAGER.

Rumor Current That Jake Stahl Will Get the Berth.

Boston, April 3.—Although lacking official confirmation, it is believed by those in this city close to the affairs of the American League that Garland Stahl, formerly manager of the Washington team, is to be the new manager of the Boston Americans.

Stahl was in Fort Wayne Sunday afternoon at the funeral of Chick Stahl, to whom he was in no way related, by the way—and later in the day left with President John I. Taylor of the Boston club and Secretary McElroy of the American League. The Boston club owner had a long conference with Stahl during their stay in Fort Wayne, which circumstance gives added color to the rumor.
